In our partnership with homeschooling families, Scholars seamlessly combines the strengths of conventional education with the advantages of homeschooling, crafting a unique program that integrates the best of both worlds.

the goal

We are dedicated to delivering an education centered on Christian principals, aimed at cultivating the confidence of our students, fostering a culture of honesty and integrity, and facilitating both intellectual and spiritual growth.

the teaching

Our educators are committed to working along with parents to produce the highest standards of academic excellence. Teachers diligently guide students through instruction, assignments, assessments and grade recording. Parents are responsible for ensuring that students complete their assignments at home, actively participate in classroom activities, and are adequately prepared for class discussions by reviewing necessary materials and maintaining regular attendance.

the options

Students from 7th to 12th grade have the opportunity to enroll in core and elective courses, share lunchtimes and CoffeeHouse, and engage in extracurricular activities year-round. Additionally, high school students are encouraged to participate in the Servant Leadership Program.

the results

We provide an educational environment that harnesses the power of positive peer influence within our classrooms. Our approach goes beyond traditional academics, encouraging students to exceed expectations, engage in meaningful gospel-driven discussions, navigate friendships, and be accountable to our dedicated teaching staff. We also work to empower our students to effectively manage their time, commitments, and responsibilities.
